CAUTION: EXTERNAL EMAIL

I assume this is one of the people you asked to take possession of the equipment.

He is very impatient about holding it. Since most if not all of this is your clients collateral, or some other secured creditor, I am not going to get very involved in that process. I have asked him to let me know if any of these items are licensed or titled, to verify liens on those titles.

I think the personal property beyond cattle issue needs to be addressed soon, including who has first liens on what, and where their collateral is located, and then get motions to lift stay filed and foreclose.

Let me know, thanks.

Subject: McClain Equipment List

I had a little time today to take pictures and inventory the McClain equipment that is stored in Lexington. This list does not include any of the shop equipment that is stored in Mt. Sterling, we will get that inventoried the first opportunity.
